

Stanislava A. Myronyuk. Concepts, principles and types of services of the National Police. The article is analyzed of the legislatively meaningful and potential types of service services, which are based on the reasons of the National Police. It is imperative to provide, as to indicate the need for the expansion of the normative consolidation of service services, as it is possible to press on the components of the National Police, introduced by the understanding and the principle of the support.

The article clarifies the need to develop an effective and scientifically sound national model for the implementation of the service function of the National Police. The own concept of service activity of the National Police as defined by law and regulated by law activities for the provision of administrative services aimed at realizing the rights of individuals and legal entities and meeting the needs of means of communication with the National Police is proposed.

The following principles of service activity of the National Police are singled out and disclosed: single window, debureaucratization (non-interference), increase of efficiency, availability and openness of information on activity of public body on service provision, availability of criteria for quality assessment of public services, availability of public services, prevention and counteraction corruption in the provision of services, saving time, appealing the procedure for providing the service.

It was found that the services of the National Police can be divided into the following types: related to the issuance of permits for firearms, ammunition and other items; in the field of traffic; in the field of security activities (protection of property of citizens, organizations, as well as objects subject to mandatory protection, etc.); in the field of admission to driving.

It is proved that the implementation of these services should be carried out on the basis of compliance with the unified principles of administrative services, and on the basis of information cards for each service to be developed to meet the requirements of the Law "On Administrative Services", approved by the Order of the National Police. available to consumers of such services.

Keywords: service and service activities of public authorities, service services of the National Police, principle of service activities of the National Police.